

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

August 28, 2006

Contact:

Emily Hanson, Program Director
Young Audiences of Minnesota
Phone: 651-292-3399
Fax: 651-292-3397
emily@youngaudiencesofmn.org

Boys and Girls Club Members Star in Hip Hop Performance

Minneapolis, August 28, 2006-- Jack Cornelius Boys and Girls Club members will show off their Hip Hop dancing skills for their families and community members on Thursday, August 31st at 6 p.m. Students learned and perfected their moves while participating in a Hip Hop dance residency led by Young Audiences teaching artist Edna Stevens Talton of Universal Dance Destiny. The National Endowment for the Arts provided funding for this program, allowing Young Audiences of Minnesota to bring arts-in-education residencies to members at three Twin Cities Boys and Girls Clubs.

Young Audiences of Minnesota inspires, empowers and unites children and communities through education, arts and culture. Universal Dance Destiny inspires youth to discover their artistic abilities and strives to promote cultural awareness through the performance and teaching of Native West African and Modern American Hip Hop dance.

Please join us Thursday, August 31st, 6 p.m. at the Jack Cornelius Boys and Girls Club for this special Hip Hop performance by Boys and Girls Club members. Jack Cornelius Boys and Girls Club, 2323 11th Ave S, Minneapolis, MN 55404.

###